

Another successful Computex for LEGEND

Taipei, Taiwan - (June 9, 2005), Taipei, Taiwan - Legend has finished another successful year at the Computex IT exhibition, the second largest in the world. The show attracted 28,254 international visitors up 7.75% on the previous years attendance. The shows local attendance was also up by 57.31% over the 2004 show. LEGEND featured its core memory & digital media products at the show as well as their peripheral products. New products on show by LEGEND were the companies DDR2 modules and mini secure digital (Mini SD) & reduced size multimedia card (RS-MMC) digital media. The stand was manned by the companies new Taiwan office which focuses on clients in regions where LEGEND does not operate local operations such as Western Europe & North America. "We were encouraged by the positive response to our products from visitors at Computex this year and are positive we can build on business as a result of participation in the show" said Rob Kester, Sales Director for Legend Corporation.

From left to right: Stanley Seah (ASEAN Sales Director) Simon Forth (Director of Operations) & Mathew Chen (Senior Sales Manager for Taiwan).

About Legend

Legend is a leading Australian electronics engineering and manufacturing company that designs, manufactures and distributes memory based products including memory modules and related computer components. Legend is globally competitive with operations extending throughout Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Asia and Europe. Legend was established in 1989 and commenced manufacture operations in 1993. LEGEND has manufacturing facilities in Adelaide, South Australia and Johannesburg, South Africa. Legend has a broad range of clients from key global clients including Dell, Hewlett Packard, Acer and NEC to major Australian based computer assemblers including IPEX, ASI and Optima through to major merchandising chains such as Harvey Norman, Dick Smith Electronics, Kmart and Myer.